This information is from Janae from CCCS:
Instructors have the ability to install the Creative Cloud software on a personal device and log into it with their School ID.

This is her response regarding students not logging out: The only problem that a student will run into for not logging out, is that someone else would be able to use the software under their account. As long as they log out of the machine, there shouldn't be that issue. If they haven't logged out of one machine and go to a new machine the next day, the new login will invalidate their last session.

Regarding students using Adobe at home:
No. The student Adobe ID will only work on Student Lab packages created by your Adobe They will not be able to use their school Adobe ID on software of their own. Software for personal devices would need to be purchased from On The Hub
